The usual reports of Sunday services were made.

The Postoffice Removed.

The Roanoke postoffice was removed last night from the old stand on Campbell avenue into the Jamison building on South Jefferson street, next door to the Terry building. The work of removing the furniture, fixtures, etc., was begun late yesterday evening, and before morning everything was in order at the new building. The new postoffice is commodious and convenient and, until the Government building is erected, will answer the needs of the Roanoke public.

To Attend the Montgomery Presbytery.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Campbell went to Rocky Mount on the noon train yesterday to attend the annual meeting of the Montgomery Presbytery which convenes at that place to-day. Christian, pastor and delegate respectively of the Second Presbyterian Church and Messrs. Earman and Dado, of Woodside and Bethany Churches. It is probable that other parties, not delegates, will attend the meeting.

Eanes Came Back Alone.

Police Officer Eanes, who left for Portsmouth, Ohio, several days ago armed with a requisition from the governor of the Buckeye State for the arrest of W. D. Myers, who is wanted here for obtaining money under false pretences, returned to Roanoke yesterday alone. Mr. Eanes found, on his arrival at Portsmouth, that under the Ohio State law Myers was entitled to a preliminary hearing there, and could not be removed from the State unless money was deposited to pay the expenses of his return. Mr. Myers took advantage of these facts and remained quietly at Portsmouth. He will have a hearing on October 10. Meantime he is out on $500 bail.

In the Police Court Yesterday.

In the police court yesterday morning Justice Williams imposed a fine of $2.50 on Lena Anderson for disorderly conduct. William Smith was taxed $5 for disorderly conduct at the "merry go round" Saturday night. Judson Gunn will pay $10 in work for trespassing on the Norfolk and Western railroad and for carrying concealed weapons. Mike Foley augmented the finances of the city $2.50 for raising Cain generally. A merry quartette, composed of Cal Bramwell, Edward Colley, Hugh Haley and Sam Brame, were taxed 100 cents apiece for indulging in the game of pitching horseshoes for "keeps" on Sunday. Jim Crook was assessed $2.50 for being drunk and W. P. Patterson $2.50 for fighting.

The fines assessed for the week ending Saturday, September 15, amounted to $111.50; cash paid during the week, $66.

Prices That Need No Comment.

THOMAS & BURNS, the well known clothiers, have an advertisement on the fourth page of this issue that it will pay every parent, every man, every boy to read. The prices to which they have reduced their goods are more than surprising, they are sensational.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR JAPAN.

The Chinese Routed With Great Slaughter at Ping Yang.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—A Central News dispatch from Seoul, dated 6 p. m., September 16, says a great battle has been fought at Ping Yang between the Chinese and Japanese troops, in which the former were utterly routed.

The Chinese were completely taken by surprise and were thrown into a panic. Hundreds were cut down, and those who escaped death, finding themselves surrounded at every point, broke and fled. Some of Vice-roy Li Hung Chang's European drilled troops stood their ground to the last and were cut down to a man. The Chinese loss is estimated at 2,300.

The Japanese loss is only 30 killed and 370 wounded, including 11 officers. Most of the casualties among the Japanese occurred during the first day's fighting and very few were a result of night attack. The Japanese forces are in active pursuit of the fugitives, who have thrown away their arms and readily yielded themselves as prisoners.

Desultory war may be carried on for some time to come, but unless China shall succeed in getting another army into the peninsula Korea will undoubtedly remain in possession of the Japanese.

The News Confirmed.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Advices received at the Japanese legation in this city officially confirm the report of the absolute and crushing defeat of the Chinese in the recent engagement at Ping Yang.

DESPAIR AMONG THE CLERKS.

Pathetic Scenes Witnessed at the Treasury Department Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Employees of the Treasury Department were thoroughly worked up over the discharge now being made to carry into effect the reorganization provided by the Dooley commission. So far the "axe" has fallen most heavily upon the women employees and many high-priced female clerks have been discharged.

The scenes to-day and Saturday when the dreaded yellow envelope, containing the discharge, was handed to the victims, were in many cases pathetic. It was not unusual to have half a dozen groups of crying clerks in one bureau. Many of the female clerks discharged had been long in the service, and one case is mentioned of a woman who was among the first ever appointed to government office by United States Treasurer Spinner, over 35 years ago. Twelve clerks were discharged to-day.

Senator Jones Asked to Resign.

CARSON, Nevada, Sept. 17.—Senator John P. Jones, of Nevada, has been requested by the Republican State central committee to resign his seat in the United States Senate, to which he was elected by Republicans. This request is made in a long letter, which was drafted by Chairman Trenner Coffin and approved by the State central committee at a meeting held in this city. The letter exhaustively reviews Senator Jones' record of August 29, to the former chairman of the committee, Enoch Strother, in which he announces that he has left the Republican party to join the Populists, and severely criticizes his course of action.

The Strikers Win.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The strike of the United Brotherhood of Tailors is practically at an end. This morning the headquarters of the strikers in Grand street was crowded with members of the contractors' association who were willing to accede to any of the strikers' demands. By to-morrow morning it is expected that all the hands who went out will have returned. At the headquarters of the Knights of Labor the men are also proclaiming a victory. They said their bosses had given in and that all would return to work this morning.

Removed for Safe-Keeping.

SAVANNAH, Sept. 17.—A Morning News special from Albany, Ga., says: Dave Gootsby, the negro felon who assaulted and mutilated little Susan Butler, in Thomas county last Saturday, was brought here yesterday but to-day was spirited away by Sheriff Edwards, who, it is thought, sent him to America for safe-keeping. The presence of the black brute here caused great excitement and it seemed to be growing hourly when the sheriff sent Gootsby away unknown to any one except his escort.

O'Rourke's Resignation Asked For.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Secretary Carlisle to day asked for the resignation of Jeremiah O'Rourke, of Newark, N. J., supervising architect of the Treasury.

Mike Boden Knocked Out.

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Joe Choynski, of California, knocked out Mike Boden, of Chicago, in three rounds at Tattersall's to night. Boden was never in it.

CINCH FOR SPECIALISTS.

"If I was to try the race over again, what would I go into?" inquired the man on the corner in answer to a question. "Well, sir, I would be a specialist in medicine. There is not a fairly good one in the country who is not overrun with patients. Take the eye doctors, for instance. They are to-day making it plain to the public that a great part of our ailments which were laid to all sorts of causes come directly from the faulty condition of the eyes, which thus produce a strain on the system so severe that something gives way. Three of my nearest friends have lately made this discovery after looking for their ailments in every possible quarter. Defective eyes are not only very much more general than was formerly supposed, but they yield to skillful treatment, and a shattered system is made vigorous by the process, thus effecting two remedies at once. There are not men enough in the profession fitted to do this work as fast as it makes its appearance."—Buffalo Express.

"Referring to the above, what do you think of it, Dr. Matthez?" asked a Times man of the eminent oculo-optician at the Ponce de Leon. "Well," said the doctor, "there is some truth in it to be sure, possibly a little exaggerated, but I should say if persons would observe mere caution in the first place of having their eyes examined and glasses adjusted properly much more trouble would be averted, more eyes being injured by the injudicious and hazardous use of glasses than arises from any other cause, but I may write of this in detail further on."

MEXICAN SUPERSTITIONS.

Some Ludicrous Incidents That Happened Beyond the Rio Grande.

I once knew a brilliant gentleman who attributed his cruel misfortunes to his wife's having placed peacock feathers as a decoration around the parlor mirror, says a City of Mexico correspondent of the Boston Herald. He organized a big company, got New York and Mexican millionaires into it, and somehow they calmly let him out when the organization was perfected. Such things have occurred even in Boston, and there were no peacock feathers in the business either.

There is an old general here so scared that one falls to discern any of his original cuticle, and he has faced death courageously on 40 battlefields, but he will go indoors and cross himself and say a dozen aves if, on sallying forth of a morning, he encounters a black cat!

An old woman in a back street, living in a house with a little courtyard which smells of disinfectants and is adorned by a shriveled orange tree, earns a living and puts money in the bank by letting people see their dead friends in a crystal ball! Only once has she disappointed people. A Senator Olmo went one day, hoping to see the image of an old flame in the crystal, when his wife popped out from behind a screen, and seizing him firmly by the arm led him into the courtyard, where he confessed that he had come to see his dead mother-in-law, which pacified his wife, for women are so deliciously inconsistent.

If a Tuesday falls on the 13th of the month, no one in Mexico will transact any important business, and even your cook counts the lumps of sugar she steals lest she should get 13 and so trouble the bad luck and die in her sleep that very night.

Tuesday is the unlucky day in Mexico. If you were born on a Tuesday, never admit it. You probably have been a disaster all your life, but people will firmly believe that you are an unlucky dog and have the evil eye into the bargain if they find that a Tuesday was honored with your birth. I know a man who started on a Tuesday with money to pay off the hands in a factory near the city and went instead to Acapulco, where he took the Panama steamer. The board of directors of the manufacturing company passed a resolution affirming their undying faith in his honesty and attributed his error to having started for the mill on Tuesday.

Vampire Bats.

Vampire bats are found by thousands in Veracruz and Orizaba. They are particularly fond of veal blood, but older stock and horses, colts, mules and burros all suffer. I did not catch a vampire at his work, though I saw hundreds of them, but the cattlemen all tell the same story. The vampire settles somewhere on the back of the beast in the pasture at night, and then, while slowly fanning its wings to and fro, cuts a circular piece of skin one-quarter of an inch in diameter. Through this hole he sucks the blood till satisfied.

One wound would be of little consequence nor would the loss of blood do much damage were that all, but half a dozen vampires may feast on one poor calf or on the back of a saddle horse in one night. The calf is badly weakened by the loss of blood, while a saddle horse so served is worthless until the wounds are entirely healed. But that is not the worst result of the bite. The region swarms with a pestiferous fly that soon after daylight finds the wound and lays eggs in it. Unless the wound is properly cleaned and dressed with a waxy salve within 48 hours after the vampire's attack the animal will be destroyed by the progeny of the fly. The percentage of calves thus killed is large in spite of the watchfulness of the cow herders.—Panama Correspondent.

What Not to Lend.

Douglas Jerrold, the celebrated wit, said: "There are three things that no man but a fool lends, or, having lent, is not in the most helpless state of mental crassitude if he ever hopes to get back again. These three things are books, money and umbrellas. I believe a certain fiction of the law assumes a remedy against the borrower, but I know of no case in which any man, being sufficiently dastard to glibly his reputation as plaintiff in such a suit, ever fairly succeeded against the wholesome prejudices of society. Umbrellas may be 'hedged about' by covey statutes. I will not swear that it is not so. There may be laws that make such things property. But I am sure that the hissing contempt, the loud mouthed indignation, of all civilized society would sibilate and roar at the bloodless pother that should engage law on his side to obtain for him the restitution of a lent umbrella."

White Lead as a Preservative.

The advantages of using genuine white lead for painting surfaces, especially iron work, have been known for years, but an instance mentioned by Sir William Arrol will serve to impress the fact on the memory. Some years ago he purchased the materials of old Hammersmith bridge for the purpose of using a portion in erecting a temporary plant at one of his large undertakings. The iron work had been in position 62 years, and many of the parts, owing to inaccessibility, had not been painted since they were placed in position. Finding them in so remarkable a state of preservation, Sir William Arrol had some of the paint analyzed, when it was found to be genuine white lead.—English Mechanic.

Changed His Mind.

Indignant Citizen—Here, you fellow, what do you mean by beating that horse in that way? I've a notion to have you run in.

Teamster—The critter's got to be beat. He always was balky. That's why they took 'im off the track.

"Took him off the track? By gee, it's old Mudhook, the very horse that lost me $2,500 by balking in the middle of a race three years ago. Soak him again, will you?"—Indianapolis Journal.

Paris Criminals.

Of all cities of the world Paris presents a gathering of humankind most fearfully mixed in its elements of disorder. The criminal brought up from childhood in the capital will risk his life for the privilege of living there. Accordingly many criminals who have been forbidden residences in Paris in spite of the strictest surveillance of the barriers will work their way in again and take up their career of crime under other names.—Paris Letter.

A Bad Case.

Banks (from his berth feebly)—I say, steward, do you think it's all up with me? Steward (cheerfully)—Heavenly think, for the present, sir, but your appetite will be a-comin' by an by.—New York Herald.

Galveston handles every year 700,000 bales of cotton.

HOPE FOR DYSPEPTICS.

A Natural Food That Does Not Require Digestion.

The Way It Is Done—How Mixing With Fruit Acids Digests Food Before It Is Even Taken Into the Mouth.

Natural foods are, as a rule, insoluble. They must be dissolved before they can be absorbed.

Digestion is the dissolving of food in our mouth, stomach and intestines. It is done by special ferments prepared by special organs.

A great deal of energy is used up in digestion. Well people can spare the energy, sick people cannot. People who have not sufficient energy suffer from indigestion.

It is plain that Paskola, which is an artificially digested food, will save a sick person a great deal of energy.

Artificial digestion is the dissolving of food outside the body by the same ferments that dissolve it inside the body. Paskola is a fastening food made of grains and fruit that has been digested in this way. It also aids in the digestion of other food.

Sick people need all their energies to get well. They should take Paskola. Thin people spend their energy in business or other cares and worry. Paskola will make them fat without giving their digestive organs any work.

Paskola is an ideal natural fastening food. It is more. It is a natural tonic food that does not create false new energy, but helps you to husband what you have.

Any one who reads the thankful words which follow will be convinced of the surpassing worth of this great artificially digested food.

MIAMI, Ohio, August 16, 1894.

DEAR FRIENDS: And you have indeed been friends to me as you would be convinced if you could have seen me last summer at this time and see me now. For three years I have been treated by the best doctors in Indiana and Ohio. I would get relief for a while, but only to get worse again. When I commenced to take Paskola I did not think that it would do me any good, and had made up my mind to quit taking medicine and let nature take its course, when one of your little books was thrown in my way, and I asked my husband if I could try it, and he is surprised with the result. I have taken four bottles and to-day I never felt better in my life. I do not know how much I have gained in flesh, but everyone says I look so much better.

I have advertised it well here and several have tried it, and are much pleased. I can eat anything I want and sleep at night like a log. I cannot say enough of Paskola and also of the tablets. They are just grand. I wish I could convince every one of its merits; they would certainly use it.

I remain your friend,

MRS. FRED GROVES.

Taste
has lost lives. In former years people wouldn't take Cod-liver Oil on account of its bad taste. Now we have the Cream of Cod-liver Oil, which is palatable and easier on the digestive organs than plain oil, besides being more effective. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

Don't be deceived by Substitutes!
